Environmental Policy

Mark Millman Marine will seek to conduct its work in such a manner as to create the least impact on the environment.

All precautions are to be taken to prevent the discharge of contaminants that may pollute the atmosphere, any body of water or land area, which may be harmful to flora or fauna. All hazardous substances will be disposed of in accordance with environmental requirements and the material safety data sheet for the product.

In the event of a discharge the appropriate authorities will be informed and an investigation of the incident commenced immediately.

Mark Millman Marine will endeavour to reduce, recycle and reuse resources in an effort to minimise wastage. Examples of products recycled will include paper and scrap metal.
